

Harkness Equipment Ltd. has an opening for a Poultry Sales Representative.

The Poultry Sales Representative position involves maintaining and acquiring customer accounts, handling the sales of 13 different brands of feeding, watering, lighting and ventilation products for new and/or renovated poultry and hog barns, offering upgrades when needed and promoting other company products or services. The sales territory for this position is primarily Ontario, but can include bordering provinces and states.

The successful applicant will have:

- Strong customer service skills
- Basic computer knowledge
- A positive attitude

All applicants must:

- Hold a valid G drivers' licence
- Have CSA approved safety shoes

A background in agriculture (specifically poultry) would be considered an asset.

The Poultry Sales Representative position is a full-time, permanent position. This position offers a combination of salary and commission pay structure. As this position is located out of our Hickson office the ideal candidate will reside within a reasonable commuting distance from the office.

Qualified applicants can submit their resume and cover letter through Indeed, or email them to alexandriah@harknessequipment.ca.

We thank all applicants who apply, but only those selected for an interview will be contacted.
